Ball Reports Improved 2011 Results, Expects Further Growth in 2012

Highlights

- Full-year comparable earnings per diluted share from continuing operations of $2.73, vs. $2.36 in 2010, an increase of more than 15 percent
- Ball generated $505 million in free cash flow in 2011, after growth capital of approximately $250 million
- The company returned more than $500 million in value to shareholders in 2011 in the form of share repurchases ($474 million) and dividends ($46 million)
- Fourth quarter comparable earnings per diluted share from continuing operations of 48 cents, vs. 53 cents in 2010, which included a tax benefit of 7 cents per diluted share

BROOMFIELD, Colo., Jan. 26, 2012—Ball Corporation [NYSE: BLL] today reported full-year 2011 net earnings attributable to the company of $444.0 million, or $2.63 per diluted share, on sales of $8.6 billion, compared to $468.0 million, or $2.55 per diluted share, on sales of $7.6 billion in 2010. On a comparable basis, Ball's full-year 2011 results were net earnings of $459.6 million, or $2.73 per diluted share, compared to $433.0 million, or $2.36 per diluted share, in 2010 which included a fourth quarter tax benefit of 7 cents per diluted share.

“Ball Corporation’s 2011 full-year comparable earnings per share increased more than 15 percent compared to 2010, in an economic environment that remains challenging across much of the world,” said John A. Hayes, president and chief executive officer. “Our improved 2011 performance was the result of maximizing value in our existing businesses, expanding into new products and capabilities, broadening our geographic reach, aligning ourselves with the right customers and markets and leveraging our technological expertise – all key strategies in our Drive for 10 vision to achieve continued long-term growth.”

Fourth quarter 2011 net earnings attributable to Ball Corporation were $77.5 million, or 47 cents per diluted share, on sales of $2.1 billion, compared to $92.2 million, or 52 cents per diluted share, on sales of $2.0 billion, in the fourth quarter of 2010. On a comparable basis, Ball's fourth quarter results were net earnings of $78.1 million, or 48 cents per diluted share, compared to $94.4 million, or 53 cents per diluted share in the fourth quarter of 2010 including a tax benefit of 7 cents per diluted share. Weaker 12-ounce beverage can volumes in North America and Europe and six fewer accounting days dampened fourth quarter results and were partially offset by strong operating performance and continued growth in specialty packaging.

Details of comparable segment earnings for the full year and the fourth quarter can be found in the notes to the unaudited consolidated financial statements that accompany this news release.

Metal Beverage Packaging, Americas & Asia

Metal beverage packaging, Americas and Asia, comparable segment operating earnings were $481.7 million for full-year 2011 on sales of $4.4 billion, compared to $418.3 million in 2010 on sales of $3.8 billion. For the fourth quarter, comparable earnings were $119.9 million on sales of $1.1 billion, compared to $117.0 million on sales of $1.0 billion in 2010.

Ball successfully started up a new Alumi-Tek® line during the quarter in the company's Golden, Colo., plant to meet growing demand for the popular reclosable aluminum bottle, and reduced 12-ounce beverage can capacity in its Columbus, Ohio, plant to manage inventories and better align Ball's manufacturing output with market demand. The previously announced closure of the company's Torrance, Calif., plant was completed as scheduled and equipment from the plant was relocated to other facilities worldwide. Also during the fourth quarter, Ball acquired its partners' 60 percent interests in a former joint venture metal beverage can plant in Qingdao, China. The company is building a new, expanded plant in Qingdao to meet increasing market demand in this fast growing region. Ball's joint venture beverage can plants in Alagoinhas, Brazil, and Ho Chi Minh City, Vietnam, are on schedule to start up by the end of the first quarter to meet continued strong customer demand.

Metal Beverage Packaging, Europe

Metal beverage packaging, Europe, comparable segment results in 2011 were operating earnings of $243.7 million on sales of $2.0 billion, compared to $213.5 million on sales of $1.7 billion in 2010. For the fourth quarter, comparable operating earnings in 2011 were $41.0 million on sales of $451.0 million, compared to $42.3 million on sales of $408.5 million in the fourth quarter of 2010.

During the fourth quarter, continued soft beverage can volumes were partially offset by strong demand for extruded aluminum packaging. Ball will relocate the company's European headquarters from Germany to Switzerland during 2012 to centralize administrative functions and align more closely with customers.

Metal Food & Household Products Packaging, Americas

Metal food and household products packaging, Americas, comparable segment results for 2011 were operating earnings of $133.7 million on sales of $1.4 billion, compared to $129.1 million in 2010 on sales of $1.4 billion. For the fourth quarter of 2011, comparable segment results were operating earnings of $13.1 million on sales of $322.8 million, compared to $24.6 million on sales of $352.6 million in the same period of 2010.

Fourth quarter results were lower due to weaker volumes after a poor vegetable pack in the fall, increased plant curtailments late in the year to reduce inventory and the absence of customer prebuys compared to the fourth quarter of 2010. On a full-year basis the segment results improved due primarily to increased operating efficiencies and continued emphasis on lean manufacturing practices.

Aerospace and Technologies

Aerospace and technologies comparable segment results were operating earnings of $79.6 million on sales of $784.6 million in 2011, compared to $69.8 million on sales of $713.7 million in 2010. For the fourth quarter, earnings were $18.0 million on sales of $185.1 million, compared to $19.3 million on sales of $200.6 million in the quarter in 2010. Contracted backlog at the close of the year was $897 million.

NASA's NPP satellite, built by Ball Aerospace, launched successfully on Oct. 28. The satellite's five science instruments will make critical measurements to provide long-term climate projections and data to improve short-term weather forecasts. Two of the instruments have already successfully acquired initial measurements from the satellite's orbit 512 miles above the Earth's surface. Also during the quarter, Ball Aerospace was awarded contracts to develop and integrate enhanced operational capabilities for the U.S. Air Force Distributed Common Ground System, providing new capabilities for the intelligence community.

Outlook

Ball announced yesterday a nearly 43 percent increase in the company's quarterly cash dividend, payable March 15 to shareholders of record on March 1, and increased its share repurchase authorization enabling the company to repurchase up to a total of 30 million shares of its common stock.

"The dividend increase and share authorization reflect the company's expectations of continued strong free cash flow generation and earnings performance in 2012," said Scott C. Morrison, senior vice president and chief financial officer. "During 2011 our operations generated more than $500 million in free cash flow after capital expenditures of nearly $444 million, of which in excess of $250 million was for investments in growth opportunities. While some capital projects carried over into 2012, we still expect to generate free cash flow in the range of $450 million this year, the majority of which will be used to repurchase stock.”

“Our Drive for 10 vision focuses on continuing Ball’s strong performance over the next decade, and the momentum we built in 2011 provides us with a strong start toward that goal,” Hayes said. “We expect investments made in growth projects in 2011 to benefit 2012 results as those projects come on line, and our Drive for 10 actions will play a key role in helping Ball achieve our goal of 10 to 15 percent earnings per share growth in 2012 and beyond.”

Ball Corporation is a supplier of high quality packaging for beverage, food and household products customers, and of aerospace and other technologies and services, primarily for the U.S. government. Ball Corporation and its subsidiaries employ more than 14,500 people worldwide and reported 2011 sales of more than $8.6 billion. Notes to Condensed Financials (Fourth Quarter 2011)

2. Significant Business Consolidation Activities and Other Noncomparable Items

During the fourth quarter, the company recorded charges of $9.6 million ($9.6 million after tax) for the write down of the Lublin, Poland, facility to net realizable value, as well as charges of $4.1 million ($2.6 million after tax) incurred in connection with the planned relocation of the company's European headquarters from Germany to Switzerland in 2012. Also during the fourth quarter, Ball recorded a net gain of $6.8 million ($4.2 million after tax) for the sale of tangible assets from the Torrance, California, facility less costs of closing the facility (see discussion below). Additional charges included $3.0 million ($1.8 million after tax) related to capacity reduction at the Columbus, Ohio, metal beverage plant and costs associated with previously closed facilities.

In October 2011, Ball acquired its partners' interests in a former joint venture metal beverage can plant in Qingdao, PRC. As a result of the required purchase accounting, the company recorded a gain in equity in results of affiliates of $9.2 million, related to the previously held interest in the joint venture.

In January 2011, Ball announced plans to close its Torrance, California, beverage can manufacturing plant; relocate a 12-ounce can line from the Torrance plant to its Whitby, Ontario, plant; and expand specialty can production in its Fort Worth, Texas, plant. The company recorded charges of $14.2 million ($8.6 million after tax) during the first nine months of 2011, respectively, in connection with these activities. Additionally, in September 2011, the company recorded a charge of $1.4 million ($0.9 million after tax) in connection with the discontinued production of certain products.

Also in January 2011, the company acquired Aerocan S.A.S. for €221.7 million ($295.2 million) in cash and assumed debt. Aerocan is a leading European manufacturer of extruded aerosol containers and the aluminum slugs used to make them. During 2011, the company recorded transaction costs of $2.9 million ($1.9 million after tax) related to the acquisition.

In August 2010, the company paid $46.2 million to acquire an additional 10.1 percent economic interest in its Brazilian beverage packaging joint venture, Latapack-Ball Embalagens Ltda. (Latapack-Ball), through a transaction with the joint venture partner Latapack S.A., which increased the company's economic interest in the joint venture to 60.1 percent and resulted in Ball consolidating the joint venture. In the consolidation of Latapack-Ball, the company recognized a gain of $81.8 million in equity in results of affiliates, related to the previously held equity investment in Latapack-Ball.

Also in August 2010, the company completed the sale of its plastic packaging, Americas, business to Amcor Limited and received proceeds of $258.7 million, after customary closing adjustments. The sale of Ball's plastic packaging business included five U.S. plants that manufacture polyethylene terephthalate (PET) bottles and preforms and polypropylene bottles, as well as associated customer contracts and other related assets. In connection with the sale, the company reported discontinued operations as detailed in the following table.

Notes to Condensed Financials (Fourth Quarter 2011)

2. Significant Business Consolidation Activities and Other Noncomparable Items (cont'd)

Income of $5.0 million ($3.0 million after tax) was recorded in the fourth quarter of 2010 for the gain on sale (net of estimated lease exit costs) and the subsequent leaseback of Ball's Richmond, British Columbia, facility. Also included in the fourth quarter was a charge of $2.6 million ($2.6 million after tax) to write off capitalized installation costs associated with the decision not to complete a plant in Lublin, Poland; a charge of $0.6 million ($0.4 million after tax) for transaction costs incurred for the announced first quarter 2011 acquisition of Aerocan S.A.S. in Europe and net charges of $0.6 million ($0.3 million after tax) for individually insignificant items.

In the third quarter, earnings of $17.8 million ($14.5 million after tax) were recorded due to the reversal of a pension settlement liability. The earnings were offset by a charge of $4.6 million ($2.8 million after tax) for the closure of a plant in Canada. The third quarter of 2010 also included other individually insignificant costs of $1.6 million ($1.0 million after tax).

In June 2010, the company acquired the remaining 65 percent interest in a joint venture metal beverage can and end plant in Sanshui, PRC, for $86.9 million in cash (net of cash acquired) and assumed debt. As a result of the required purchase accounting, the company recorded a gain in equity in results of affiliates of $24.1 million, related to the previously held interest in the joint venture.

The second quarter of 2010 included a charge of $3.1 million ($1.9 million after tax) to establish a reserve associated with an environmental matter at a previously owned facility. Additionally, in April 2010, Ball redeemed senior notes due December 2012, which resulted in a charge of $8.1 million ($4.9 million after tax) for the related call premium and write off of unamortized financing costs and unamortized premiums. In December 2010, the company refinanced its senior credit facilities and recorded a charge of $0.7 million ($0.4 million after tax) for the write off of unamortized financing costs.
