For important presentation information, see slide 29. For a reconciliation of CET1 transition to fully phased-in, see slide 26.

⁴ Bank of America received approval to begin using the Advanced approaches capital framework to determine risk-based capital requirements in the fourth quarter of 2015. With the approval to exit parallel run, Bank of America is now required to report regulatory capital RWA and ratios under both the Standardized and Advanced approaches. The approach that yields the lower ratio is to be used to assess capital adequacy; therefore, we used the Advanced approaches at June 30, 2016 and March 31, 2016. Prior to exiting parallel run, we were required to report regulatory capital under the Standardized approach only.

⁶ As previously disclosed, with the approval to exit parallel run, U.S. banking regulators requested modifications to certain internal analytical models including the wholesale (e.g., commercial) credit models, which increased our risk-weighted assets under the Advanced approaches beginning in the fourth quarter of 2015.

Asset Quality Trends

Net Charge-offs ($MM)

- Total reported and adjusted net charge-offs ¹ declined $83MM and $39MM versus 1Q16

- Provision of $976MM declined $21MM from 1Q16

Adjusted Net Charge-offs ($MM) ¹

Provision for Credit Losses ($MM)

- Allowance for loans and leases of $6.5B provides 1.45% coverage of loans and leases
 - Allowance covers 1.92x current period annualized net charge-offs compared to 1.83x in 1Q16

 - 2Q15 included positive market-related adjustments of $0.7B
- Excluding market-related adjustments, net interest income of $10.4B (FTE basis) ^{2, 3}
 - Decreased $0.2B from 1Q16, driven primarily by lower long-end rates and seasonal impacts to loan yields

- We remain well positioned for NII to benefit as rates move higher
 - +100 bps parallel shift in interest rate yield curve is estimated to benefit NII by $7.5B over the next 12 months ⁴
 - Asset sensitivity increased from prior quarter, driven primarily by decreases in long-end rates

Note: Amounts may not total due to rounding.

- Total noninterest expense of $13.5B in 2Q16 declined $0.5B, or 3%, from 2Q15
 - Decline versus 1Q16 driven primarily by the absence of annual retirement-eligible incentive costs of $0.9B and seasonally elevated payroll tax costs of $0.3B
- Personnel costs declined 2% from 2Q15, reflecting lower incentive compensation, as well as progress in reducing legacy mortgage-related servicing costs
- Non-personnel costs decreased 5% from 2Q15, driven by a reduction in operating and support costs across most categories
- Litigation expense of $270MM in 2Q16 versus $388MM in 1Q16 and $175MM in 2Q15
- FTE headcount down 3% from 2Q15 as reductions in support staff and operations more than offset increases in client-facing professionals

- Total Corporation investment banking (IB) fees of $1.4B (excl. self-led) declined 8% from 2Q15 and increased 22% from 1Q16
 - Ranked #3 in global IB fees with 6.5% market share
- Provision increased modestly from 2Q15 and declined $0.4B compared to the prior quarter, as 1Q16 included a significant increase in energy-related reserves
- Noninterest expense increased 2% from 2Q15, reflecting investments in client-facing professionals in Commercial and Business Banking
- Average loans and leases of $330B increased 12% from 2Q15, driven by growth in C&I, commercial real estate and leasing
 - Growth of 2% from 1Q16, driven by C&I
- Average deposits of $299B grew 4% from 2Q15 and increased modestly versus 1Q16

- Provision declined from 2Q15, driven by continued portfolio improvement
- Noninterest expense increased modestly from 2Q15; decline versus prior quarter driven by the absence of annual retirement-eligible incentive compensation costs recorded in 1Q16 and lower litigation expense

Segment Realignment Summary

The company filed an 8-K on July 12, 2016, reflecting a change in its organizational alignment (effective April 1, 2016) which eliminated the Legacy Assets & Servicing segment, and now reports its operations through four business segments: Consumer Banking, Global Wealth & Investment Management, Global Banking and Global Markets, with the remaining operations recorded in All Other. Prior periods have been reclassified to conform to current period presentation.

- In connection with the realignment, the company completed a review of all consumer real estate loans, including loans serviced for others, and servicing activities, in order to strategically align these with the appropriate business segment or All Other
- The realignment primarily impacted the financial results of Consumer Banking and All Other ¹

1Q16 impacts to Consumer Banking

- Increased end-of-period loans by $23B ²
- Reduced net income by $56MM and negatively impacted efficiency ratio by 240bps
- Additional $4B of allocated capital, which negatively impacted ROAAC by ~400bps

1Q16 impacts to All Other

- Increased end-of-period loans by $1B
- Improved net income by $58MM

¹ In 1Q16, Legacy Assets & Servicing reported a net loss of $40MM. Following the realignment, which became effective April 1, 2016, the net income of Consumer Banking, GWIM, Global Banking, Global Markets and All Other were impacted by ($56MM), ($16MM), ($12MM), ($14MM), and $58MM, respectively.

² In addition to the transfers noted above, approximately $1B of loans were transferred from Consumer Banking to GWIM.

¹ Regulatory capital ratios are preliminary. For important presentation information, see slide 29.

² Bank of America received approval to begin using the Advanced approaches capital framework to determine risk-based capital requirements in the fourth quarter of 2015. With the approval to exit parallel run, Bank of America is now required to report regulatory capital RWA and ratios under both the Standardized and Advanced approaches. The approach that yields the lower ratio is to be used to assess capital adequacy; therefore, we used the Advanced approaches at June 30, 2016 and March 31, 2016. Prior to exiting parallel run, we were required to report regulatory capital under the Standardized approach only.

⁴ As previously disclosed, with the approval to exit parallel run, U.S. banking regulators requested modifications to certain internal analytical models including the wholesale (e.g., commercial) credit models, which increased our risk-weighted assets under the Advanced approaches beginning in the fourth quarter of 2015.

Notes

^A Market-related NII adjustments include retrospective changes to debt security premium or discount amortization resulting from changes in estimated prepayments, due primarily to changes in interest rates, and hedge ineffectiveness. Amortization of premiums and accretion of discounts are included in interest income. When a change is made to the estimated lives of the securities, primarily as a result of changes in interest rates, the related premium or discount is adjusted, with a corresponding charge or benefit to interest income, to the appropriate amount had the current estimated lives been applied since the purchase of the securities. For more information, see Note 1 – Summary of Significant Accounting Principles to the Consolidated Financial Statements of the Corporation’s 2015 Annual Report on Form 10-K.

^B Global Excess Liquidity Sources include cash and high-quality, liquid, unencumbered securities, limited to U.S. government securities, U.S. agency securities, U.S. agency MBS, and a select group of non-U.S. government and supranational securities, and are readily available to meet funding requirements as they arise. It does not include Federal Reserve Discount Window or Federal Home Loan Bank borrowing capacity. Transfers of liquidity from the bank or other regulated entities are subject to certain regulatory restrictions.

^C Time to Required Funding (TTF) is a debt coverage measure and is expressed as the number of months unsecured holding company obligations of Bank of America Corporation can be met using only the BAC parent company’s Global Excess Liquidity Sources without issuing debt or sourcing additional liquidity. We define unsecured contractual obligations for purposes of this metric as maturities of senior or subordinated debt issued or guaranteed by Bank of America Corporation. For the period shown in 2015, we have included in the amount of unsecured contractual obligations the liability, including estimated costs, for the previously announced BNY Mellon private-label securitization settlement. In 1Q16, settlement payment was made for $8.5B.

^D The numerator of the SLR is quarter-end Basel 3 Tier 1 capital. The denominator is total leverage exposure based on the daily average of the sum of on-balance sheet exposures less permitted Tier 1 deductions, as well as the simple average of certain off-balance sheet exposures, as of the end of each month in a quarter. Off-balance sheet exposures primarily include undrawn lending commitments, letters of credit, potential future derivative exposures and repo-style transactions.

^E Revenue for all periods included net DVA on derivatives, as well as amortization of own credit portion of purchase discount and realized DVA on structured liabilities. Net DVA gains (losses) were ($164MM), $154MM and ($199MM) for 2Q16, 1Q16 and 2Q15, respectively. Net DVA gains (losses) included in FICC revenue were ($160MM), $140MM and ($200MM) for 2Q16, 1Q16 and 2Q15, respectively. Net DVA gains (losses) included in equities revenue were ($4MM), $14MM and $1MM for 2Q16, 1Q16 and 2Q15, respectively.

^F VaR model uses historical simulation approach based on three years of historical data and an expected shortfall methodology equivalent to a 99% confidence level. Using a 95% confidence level, average VaR was $24MM, $23MM and $23MM for 2Q16, 1Q16 and 2Q15, respectively.

Forward-looking statements often use words such as “anticipates,” “targets,” “expects,” “hopes,” “estimates,” “intends,” “plans,” “goals,” “believes,” “continue” and other similar expressions or future or conditional verbs such as “will,” “may,” “might,” “should,” “would” and “could.” Forward-looking statements represent Bank of America’s current expectations, plans or forecasts of its future results and revenues, and future business and economic conditions more generally, and other future matters. These statements are not guarantees of future results or performance and involve certain known and unknown risks, uncertainties and assumptions that are difficult to predict and are often beyond Bank of America’s control. Actual outcomes and results may differ materially from those expressed in, or implied by, any of these forward-looking statements.

You should not place undue reliance on any forward-looking statement and should consider the following uncertainties and risks, as well as the risks and uncertainties more fully discussed under Item 1A. Risk Factors of Bank of America’s 2015 Annual Report on Form 10-K, and in any of Bank of America’s subsequent Securities and Exchange Commission filings: the Company’s ability to resolve representations and warranties repurchase and related claims, including claims brought by investors or trustees seeking to distinguish certain aspects of the ACE Securities Corp. v. DB Structured Products, Inc. (ACE) decision or to assert other claims seeking to avoid the impact of the ACE decision; the possibility that the Company could face increased servicing, securities, fraud, indemnity, contribution or other claims from one or more counterparties, including trustees, purchasers of loans, underwriters, issuers, other parties involved in securitizations, monolines or private-label and other investors; the possibility that future representations and warranties losses may occur in excess of the Company’s recorded liability and estimated range of possible loss for its representations and warranties exposures; the possibility that the Company may not collect mortgage insurance claims; potential claims, damages, penalties, fines and reputational damage resulting from pending or future litigation and regulatory proceedings, including the possibility that amounts may be in excess of the Company’s recorded liability and estimated range of possible loss for litigation exposures; the possible outcome of LIBOR, other reference rate and foreign exchange inquiries and investigations; uncertainties about the financial stability and growth rates of non-U.S. jurisdictions, the risk that those jurisdictions may face difficulties servicing their sovereign debt, and related stresses on financial markets, currencies and trade, and the Company’s exposures to such risks, including direct, indirect and operational; the impact of U.S. and global interest rates (including negative interest rates), currency exchange rates and economic conditions; the possibility that future credit losses may be higher than currently expected due to changes in economic assumptions, customer behavior and other uncertainties; the impact on the Company’s business, financial condition and results of operations of a potential higher interest rate environment; the impact on the Company’s business, financial condition and results of operations from a protracted period of lower oil prices or ongoing volatility with respect to oil prices; our ability to achieve anticipated cost savings; adverse changes to the Company’s credit ratings from the major credit rating agencies; estimates of the fair value of certain of the Company’s assets and liabilities; uncertainty regarding the content, timing and impact of regulatory capital and liquidity requirements, including the potential adoption of total loss-absorbing capacity requirements; the potential for payment protection insurance exposure to increase as a result of Financial Conduct Authority actions; the impact of recent proposed U.K. tax law changes including a further limitation on how much net operating losses can offset annual profits and a reduction to the U.K. corporate tax rate which, if enacted, will result in a tax charge upon enactment; the possible impact of Federal Reserve actions on the Company’s capital plans; the possible impact of regulatory determinations regarding the Company’s failure to remediate deficiencies identified by banking regulators in the Corporation’s Recovery and Resolution plans; the impact of implementation and compliance with new and evolving U.S. and international regulations, including, but not limited to, recovery and resolution planning requirements, the Volcker Rule, and derivatives regulations; a failure in or breach of the Company’s operational or security systems or infrastructure, or those of third parties, including as a result of cyber attacks; the impact on the Company’s business, financial condition and results of operations from the potential exit of the U.K. from the European Union; and other similar matters.

Important Presentation Information

- The information contained herein is preliminary and based on Company data available at the time of the earnings presentation. It speaks only as of the particular date or dates included in the accompanying slides. Bank of America does not undertake an obligation to, and disclaims any duty to, update any of the information provided.
- Certain prior period amounts have been reclassified to conform to current period presentation. Beginning in the first quarter of 2016, the Corporation classifies operating leases in other assets on the Consolidated Balance Sheet. For December 31, 2015, September 30, 2015 and June 30, 2015, $6.0B, $5.6B, and $5.3B, respectively, of operating leases were reclassified from loans and leases to other assets to conform to this presentation. Additionally, amounts related to these leases were reclassified from net interest income to other income and other general operating expenses on the Consolidated Statement of Income.
- The Corporation may present certain key performance indicators and ratios excluding certain items (e.g., market-related adjustments on net interest income, debit valuation adjustments, charge-offs related to the settlement with the DOJ) which result in non-GAAP financial measures. The Corporation believes the use of these non-GAAP financial measures provides additional clarity in understanding its results of operations and trends. For more information about the non-GAAP financial measures contained herein, please see the presentation of the most directly comparable financial measures calculated in accordance with GAAP and accompanying reconciliations in the earnings press release for the quarter ended June 30, 2016 and other earnings-related information available through the Bank of America Investor Relations web site at: <http://investor.bankofamerica.com>.
- The Company views net interest income and related ratios and analyses on a fully taxable-equivalent (FTE) basis, which when presented on a consolidated basis, are non-GAAP financial measures. The Company believes managing the business with net interest income on an FTE basis provides a more accurate picture of the interest margin for comparative purposes. The FTE adjustment was $223MM, $215MM, $226MM, $226MM and $223MM for 2Q16, 1Q16, 4Q15, 3Q15 and 2Q15, respectively.
- The Company's fully phased-in Basel 3 estimates and the supplementary leverage ratio are based on the Standardized and Advanced approaches under Basel 3 and supplementary leverage ratio final rules. Under the Basel 3 Advanced approaches, risk-weighted assets are determined primarily for market risk and credit risk, similar to the Standardized approach, but also incorporate operational risk and a credit valuation adjustment component. Market risk capital measurements are consistent with the Standardized approach, except for securitization exposures, where the Supervisory Formula Approach is also permitted. Credit risk exposures are measured using internal ratings-based models to determine the applicable risk weight by estimating the probability of default, loss given default and, in certain instances, exposure at default. The internal analytical models primarily rely on internal historical default and loss experience. The calculations under Basel 3 require management to make estimates, assumptions and interpretations, including the probability of future events based on historical experience. Actual results could differ from those estimates and assumptions. Bank of America received approval to begin using the Advanced approaches capital framework to determine risk-based capital requirements beginning in the fourth quarter of 2015. As previously disclosed, with the approval to exit parallel, U.S. banking regulators requested modifications to certain internal analytical models including the wholesale (e.g., commercial) credit models, which increased our risk-weighted assets under the Advanced approaches beginning in the fourth quarter of 2015. These Basel 3 fully phased-in Advanced approaches estimates assume approval by U.S. banking regulators of our internal analytical models, including approval of the internal models methodology (IMM). As of June 30, 2016, BAC did not have regulatory approval for the IMM model. Our estimates under the Basel 3 Advanced approaches may be refined over time as a result of further rulemaking or clarification by U.S. banking regulators.
- The Company allocates capital to its business segments using a methodology that considers the effect of regulatory capital requirements in addition to internal risk-based capital models. The Company's internal risk-based capital models use a risk-adjusted methodology incorporating each segment's credit, market, interest rate, business and operational risk components. Allocated capital is reviewed periodically and refinements are made based on multiple considerations that include, but are not limited to, risk-weighted assets measured under Basel 3 Standardized and Advanced approaches, business segment exposures and risk profile and strategic plans. As a result of this process, in the first quarter 2016, the Company adjusted the amount of capital being allocated to its business segments.
