² Excludes loans and leases in All Other.

³ See notes A, B and C on slide 39 for definitions of Global Liquidity Sources, Time to Required Funding and Supplementary Leverage Ratio, respectively.

⁴ Represents a non-GAAP financial measure. For important presentation information, see slide 41.

⁵ Regulatory capital ratios as of June 30, 2017 are preliminary. Common equity tier 1 (CET1) capital, risk-weighted assets (RWA) and CET1 ratio as shown on a fully phased-in basis are non-GAAP financial measures. For important presentation information, see slide 41. For a reconciliation of CET1 transition to fully phased-in, see slide 30.

⁶ Bank of America reports regulatory capital ratios under both the Standardized and Advanced approaches. The approach that yields the lower ratio is used to assess capital adequacy, which is the Advanced approaches for the periods presented.

⁷ Basel 3 fully phased-in Advanced approaches estimates assume approval by U.S. banking regulators of our internal models methodology (IMM) for calculating counterparty credit risk regulatory capital for derivatives. As of June 30, 2017, we did not have regulatory approval of the IMM model. Basel 3 fully phased-in Common equity tier 1 capital ratio would be reduced by approximately 25 bps if IMM is not used.

Asset Quality

Net Charge-offs ($MM)

Provision for Credit Losses ($MM)

- Total net charge-offs of $0.9B declined 3% from 1Q17
 - Consumer net charge-offs at lowest level in over a decade
- Net charge-off ratio declined to 40 bps
- Provision expense of $0.7B decreased $0.1B from 1Q17
 - Net reserve release of $0.2B in 2Q17, driven by continued improvements in consumer real estate and energy exposures; net reserve release of $0.1B in 1Q17
- Allowance for loan and lease losses of $10.9B, which represents 1.2% of total loans and leases ¹
- Consumer 30+ days performing past due declined $0.8B from 1Q17, driven by portfolio improvement
- Nonperforming loans (NPLs) decreased from 1Q17 across both consumer and commercial
 - 43% of consumer NPLs are current
- Commercial reservable criticized utilized exposure decreased $0.4B from 1Q17, due primarily to improvements in energy exposures

Net Interest Income

Net Interest Income (FTE, $B) ¹

Net Interest Yield (FTE) ¹

- Net interest income of $11.0B ($11.2B FTE ¹) increased $0.9B from 2Q16
 - Increase primarily reflects the benefits from higher interest rates and loan growth
 - Net interest yield increased to 2.34%
- NII was relatively flat from 1Q17, reflecting the benefits from higher short-end rates and one additional interest accrual day, offset by lower NII in Global Markets, the impact from the sale of the non-U.S. consumer credit card business and the absence of 1Q seasonal leasing benefits
 - Lower Global Markets NII included the impact of higher funding costs associated with balance sheet growth to support client financing activities in equities
- NII in subsequent quarters will reflect the full impact of the June 1 sale of the non-U.S. consumer card business (interest income of $0.2B recorded in 1Q17)
- Expect 3Q17 NII to increase from 2Q17, assuming realization of the forward curve and modest growth in loans and deposits
- Interest rate sensitivity as of June 30, 2017 ²
 - We remain positioned for NII to benefit as rates move higher
 - +100bps parallel shift in interest rate yield curve is estimated to benefit NII by $3.2B over the next 12 months, driven primarily by sensitivity to short-end rates ²

² NII asset sensitivity represents banking book positions.

Expense Highlights

Noninterest Expense ($B)

Headcount (in 000's)

Note: Amounts may not total due to rounding.

- Total noninterest expense of $13.7B increased $0.2B from 2Q16
 - 2Q17 included $0.4B of expense for the combined impact of impairment charges related to certain data centers in process of being sold and increased severance in the quarter
 - Higher FDIC insurance expense was more than offset by lower litigation and other operating costs
- Decline versus 1Q17, driven primarily by the absence of $1.4B in expense related to annual retirement-eligible incentives and seasonally elevated payroll tax costs
- Efficiency ratio improved to 60%
- Total headcount of 211K was down 2% from 2Q16, driven by reductions from the sale of the non-U.S. consumer credit card business and continued optimization in Consumer Banking, partially offset by investments in primary sales professionals

² Global Banking and Global Markets share in certain deal economics from investment banking and loan origination activities.

- Net income of $1.8B increased 19% from 2Q16; ROAAC of 18%
- Revenue increased 7% from 2Q16 to a record of $5B
 - NII improved due to the increased value of deposits driven by higher short-term interest rates as well as loan and leasing related growth, partially offset by modest loan spread compression
 - Noninterest income grew driven by higher advisory fees and treasury-related revenue, partially offset by the impact of loans and related hedging activities in the fair value option portfolio
- Total Corporation investment banking fees of $1.5B (excl. self-led) increased 9% from 2Q16, driven by record advisory fees
- Provision declined $0.2B from 2Q16, driven by improvement across most of the portfolio, particularly energy
- Noninterest expense increased modestly versus 2Q16, reflecting additional technology investments and higher FDIC expense, partially offset by improved operating costs
- Average loans and leases of $345B increased 3% from 2Q16, driven by growth in U.S. C&I; middle market lending increased 5%
 - Balances increased 1% from 1Q17
- Average deposits of $300B were relatively stable compared to 2Q16

- Net loss of $0.2B in 2Q17
 - Includes a pre-tax gain of $0.8B from the sale of the non-U.S. consumer credit card business, which was mostly offset by $0.7B related tax expense
- Provision improved $0.2B from 2Q16, driven by continued improvement in non-core consumer real estate loans as well as portfolio run-off
- Noninterest expense increased modestly from 2Q16, reflecting $0.4B of expense for the combined impact of impairment charges related to certain data centers in process of being sold and increased severance, partially offset by improved operating and non-core mortgage costs
 - Decline from 1Q17, driven primarily by the absence of annual retirement-eligible incentives and seasonally elevated payroll tax costs

¹ All Other consists of ALM activities, equity investments, non-core mortgage loans and servicing activities, the net impact of periodic revisions to the MSR valuation model for both core and non-core MSRs and related economic hedge results and ineffectiveness, liquidating businesses, residual expense allocations and other. ALM activities encompass certain residential mortgages, debt securities, interest rate and foreign currency risk management activities, the impact of certain allocation methodologies and accounting hedge ineffectiveness. The results of certain ALM activities are allocated to our business segments. Equity investments include our merchant services joint venture as well as Global Principal Investments which is comprised of a portfolio of equity, real estate and other alternative investments. On June 1, 2017, the Corporation completed the sale of its non-U.S. consumer credit card business to a third party.

Key Takeaways

- Delivering responsible growth
- Strong operating leverage drove improved earnings
- Efficiency ratio of 60%, while continuing to invest in the franchise
- Solid client balance growth and good customer activity
- Asset quality remains strong
- Positioned to benefit from higher interest rates
- Progress towards financial targets, while increasing capital return to shareholders

Note: Operating leverage calculated as the year-over-year percent change in revenue, net of interest expense, less the percent change in noninterest expense.

¹ Regulatory capital ratios are preliminary as of June 30, 2017. For important presentation information, see slide 41.

² Bank of America reports regulatory capital ratios under both the Standardized and Advanced approaches. The approach that yields the lower ratio is used to assess capital adequacy, which is the Advanced approaches for the periods presented.

³ Basel 3 fully phased-in Advanced approaches estimates assume approval by U.S. banking regulators of our internal models methodology (IMM) for calculating counterparty credit risk regulatory capital for derivatives. As of June 30, 2017, we did not have regulatory approval of the IMM model. Basel 3 fully phased-in Common equity tier 1 capital ratio would be reduced by approximately 25 bps if IMM is not used.

Notes

- ^A Global Liquidity Sources (GLS) include cash and high-quality, liquid, unencumbered securities, limited to U.S. government securities, U.S. agency securities, U.S. agency MBS, and a select group of non-U.S. government and supranational securities, and are readily available to meet funding requirements as they arise. It does not include Federal Reserve Discount Window or Federal Home Loan Bank borrowing capacity. Transfers of liquidity among legal entities may be subject to certain regulatory and other restrictions.
- ^B Time to Required Funding (TTF) is a debt coverage measure and is expressed as the number of months unsecured holding company obligations of Bank of America Corporation can be met using only the Global Liquidity Sources held at the BAC parent company and NB Holdings without the BAC parent company issuing debt or sourcing additional liquidity. We define unsecured contractual obligations for purposes of this metric as maturities of senior or subordinated debt issued or guaranteed by Bank of America Corporation. Prior to the third quarter of 2016, the TTF metric incorporated only the GLS of the BAC parent company. Effective September 30, 2016, the TTF metric was expanded to include the GLS of NB Holdings, following changes in the Corporation's liquidity management practices, initiated in connection with the Corporation's resolution planning activities, that include maintaining at NB Holdings GLS previously held at the BAC parent company.
- ^C The numerator of the SLR is quarter-end Basel 3 Tier 1 capital calculated on a fully phased-in basis. The denominator is total leverage exposure based on the daily average of the sum of on-balance sheet exposures less permitted Tier 1 deductions, as well as the simple average of certain off-balance sheet exposures, as of the end of each month in a quarter. Off-balance sheet exposures primarily include undrawn lending commitments, letters of credit, potential future derivative exposures and repo-style transactions.
- ^D Revenue for all periods included net debit valuation adjustments (DVA) on derivatives, as well as amortization of own credit portion of purchase discount and realized DVA on structured liabilities. Net DVA losses were $159MM, $130MM and $164MM for 2Q17, 1Q17 and 2Q16, respectively. Net DVA losses included in FICC revenue were $148MM, $120MM and $159MM for 2Q17, 1Q17 and 2Q16, respectively. Net DVA losses included in equities revenue were $11MM, $10MM and $5MM for 2Q17, 1Q17 and 2Q16, respectively.
- ^E VaR model uses historical simulation approach based on three years of historical data and an expected shortfall methodology equivalent to a 99% confidence level. Using a 95% confidence level, average VaR was $23MM, $21MM and $24MM for 2Q17, 1Q17 and 2Q16, respectively.

Forward-Looking Statements

Bank of America Corporation (the “Company”) and its management may make certain statements that constitute “forward-looking statements” within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. These statements can be identified by the fact that they do not relate strictly to historical or current facts. Forward-looking statements often use words such as “anticipates,” “targets,” “expects,” “hopes,” “estimates,” “intends,” “plans,” “goals,” “believes,” “continue” and other similar expressions or future or conditional verbs such as “will,” “may,” “might,” “should,” “would” and “could.” Forward-looking statements represent the Company’s current expectations, plans or forecasts of its future results, revenues, expenses, efficiency ratio, capital measures, and future business and economic conditions more generally, and other future matters. These statements are not guarantees of future results or performance and involve certain known and unknown risks, uncertainties and assumptions that are difficult to predict and are often beyond the Company’s control. Actual outcomes and results may differ materially from those expressed in, or implied by, any of these forward-looking statements.

You should not place undue reliance on any forward-looking statement and should consider the following uncertainties and risks, as well as the risks and uncertainties more fully discussed under Item 1A. Risk Factors of the Company’s 2016 Annual Report on Form 10-K and in any of the Company’s subsequent Securities and Exchange Commission filings: the Company’s potential claims, damages, penalties, fines and reputational damage resulting from pending or future litigation and regulatory proceedings, including inquiries into our retail sales practices, and the possibility that amounts may be in excess of the Corporation’s recorded liability and estimated range of possible loss for litigation exposures; the possibility that the Company could face increased servicing, securities, fraud, indemnity, contribution or other claims from one or more counterparties, including trustees, purchasers of loans, underwriters, issuers, other parties involved in securitizations, monolines or private-label and other investors; the possibility that future representations and warranties losses may occur in excess of the Company’s recorded liability and estimated range of possible loss for its representations and warranties exposures; the Corporation’s ability to resolve representations and warranties repurchase and related claims, including claims brought by investors or trustees seeking to avoid the statute of limitations for repurchase claims; uncertainties about the financial stability and growth rates of non-U.S. jurisdictions, the risk that those jurisdictions may face difficulties servicing their sovereign debt, and related stresses on financial markets, currencies and trade, and the Company’s exposures to such risks, including direct, indirect and operational; the impact of U.S. and global interest rates, currency exchange rates and economic conditions; the impact on the Company’s business, financial condition and results of operations of a potential higher interest rate environment; the possibility that future credit losses may be higher than currently expected due to changes in economic assumptions, customer behavior, adverse developments with respect to U.S. or global economic conditions and other uncertainties; the impact on the Company’s business, financial condition and results of operations from a protracted period of lower oil prices or ongoing volatility with respect to oil prices; the Company’s ability to achieve its expense targets, net interest income expectations, or other projections; adverse changes to the Company’s credit ratings from the major credit rating agencies; estimates of the fair value of certain of the Company’s assets and liabilities; uncertainty regarding the content, timing and impact of regulatory capital and liquidity requirements, including the approval of our internal models methodology for calculating counterparty credit risk for derivatives; the potential impact of total loss-absorbing capacity requirements; potential adverse changes to our global systemically important bank (G-SIB) surcharge; the potential impact of Federal Reserve actions on the Company’s capital plans; the possible impact of the Company’s failure to remediate shortcomings identified by banking regulators in the Company’s Resolution Plan; the impact of implementation and compliance with U.S. and international laws, regulations and regulatory interpretations, including, but not limited to, recovery and resolution planning requirements, Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) assessments, the Volcker Rule, fiduciary standards and derivatives regulations; a failure in or breach of the Company’s operational or security systems or infrastructure, or those of third parties, including as a result of cyberattacks; the impact on the Company’s business, financial condition and results of operations from the planned exit of the United Kingdom (U.K.) from the European Union (EU); and other similar matters.

Important Presentation Information

- The information contained herein is preliminary and based on Company data available at the time of the July 18, 2017 earnings presentation. It speaks only as of the particular date or dates included in the accompanying slides. Bank of America does not undertake an obligation to, and disclaims any duty to, update any of the information provided.
- The Company may present certain key performance indicators and ratios excluding certain items (e.g., DVA) which result in non-GAAP financial measures. The Company believes the use of these non-GAAP financial measures provides additional clarity in understanding its results of operations and trends. For more information about the non-GAAP financial measures contained herein, please see the presentation of the most directly comparable financial measures calculated in accordance with GAAP and accompanying reconciliations in the earnings press release for the quarter ended June 30, 2017 and other earnings-related information available through the Bank of America Investor Relations web site at: <http://investor.bankofamerica.com>.
- The Company views net interest income and related ratios and analyses on a fully taxable-equivalent (FTE) basis, which when presented on a consolidated basis, are non-GAAP financial measures. The Company believes managing the business with net interest income on an FTE basis provides investors with a more accurate picture of the interest margin for comparative purposes. The Company believes that the presentation allows for comparison of amounts from both taxable and tax-exempt sources and is consistent with industry practices. The FTE adjustment was $237MM, $197MM, $234MM, $228MM and $223MM for 2Q17, 1Q17, 4Q16, 3Q16 and 2Q16, respectively.
- The Company's fully phased-in Basel 3 estimates and the supplementary leverage ratio are based on the Standardized and Advanced approaches under Basel 3 and supplementary leverage ratio final rules. Under the Basel 3 Advanced approaches, risk-weighted assets are determined primarily for market risk and credit risk, similar to the Standardized approach, but also incorporate operational risk and a credit valuation adjustment component. Market risk capital measurements are consistent with the Standardized approach, except for securitization exposures, where the Supervisory Formula Approach is also permitted. Credit risk exposures are measured using internal ratings-based models to determine the applicable risk weight by estimating the probability of default, loss given default and, in certain instances, exposure at default. The internal analytical models primarily rely on internal historical default and loss experience. The calculations under Basel 3 require management to make estimates, assumptions and interpretations, including the probability of future events based on historical experience. Actual results could differ from those estimates and assumptions. These Basel 3 fully phased-in Advanced approaches estimates assume approval by U.S. banking regulators of our internal models methodology (IMM) for calculating counterparty credit risk regulatory capital for derivatives. As of June 30, 2017, we did not have regulatory approval of the IMM model.
- The Company allocates capital to its business segments using a methodology that considers the effect of regulatory capital requirements in addition to internal risk-based capital models. The Company's internal risk-based capital models use a risk-adjusted methodology incorporating each segment's credit, market, interest rate, business and operational risk components. Allocated capital is reviewed periodically and refinements are made based on multiple considerations that include, but are not limited to, risk-weighted assets measured under Basel 3 Standardized and Advanced approaches, business segment exposures and risk profile and strategic plans. As a result of this process, in the first quarter of 2017, the Company adjusted the amount of capital being allocated to its business segments.
