

VERASTEM, INC.

Insider Trading Policy

1. BACKGROUND AND PURPOSE

The federal securities laws prohibit any member of the Board of Directors (a “Director”), executive officer, employee, or consultant of Verastem, Inc. (together with its subsidiaries, the “Company”) from purchasing or selling Company securities on the basis of material nonpublic information concerning the Company, or from tipping material nonpublic information to others. These laws impose severe sanctions on individuals who violate them. In addition, the SEC has the authority to impose large fines on the Company and on the Company’s Directors, executive officers, controlling stockholders, and other supervisory personnel if the Company’s employees engage in insider trading and the Company has failed to take appropriate steps to prevent it (so-called “controlling person” liability). As such, this Insider Trading Policy has been distributed or made available to all applicable Directors, executive officers, employees, and consultants of the Company.

This insider trading policy is being adopted in light of these legal requirements, and with the goal of helping:

- prevent inadvertent violations of the insider trading laws;
- avoid embarrassing proxy disclosure of reporting violations by persons subject to Section 16 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (the “Exchange Act”);
- avoid even the appearance of impropriety on the part of those employed by, or associated with, the Company;
- protect the Company from controlling person liability; and
- protect the reputation of the Company, its Directors, executive officers and employees.

As detailed below, this policy applies to family members and certain other persons and entities with whom Directors, executive officers, employees, and consultants have relationships. However, nothing in this policy is applicable to transactions by the Company itself.

2. PENALTIES FOR VIOLATION

2.1. Civil and Criminal Penalties. Potential penalties for insider trading violations include:

- Imprisonment for up to 20 years;
- Criminal fines of up to $5 million for an individual; and
- Civil fines of up to three times the profit gained or loss avoided.

2.2. Controlling Person Liability. If the Company fails to take appropriate steps to prevent illegal insider trading, the Company may have “controlling person” liability for a trading violation, subjecting it to the following penalties:

- Civil penalties of up to the greater of $1 million and three times the profit gained or loss avoided; and
- Criminal penalty of up to $25 million.

The civil penalties can extend personal liability to the Company’s Directors, executive officers, controlling stockholders, and other supervisory personnel if they fail to take appropriate steps to prevent insider trading.

2.3. Company Sanctions. Violation of any of the foregoing rules is grounds for disciplinary action by the Company, including termination of employment for cause.

3. DEFINITION OF MATERIAL NONPUBLIC INFORMATION

Inside information has two important elements: materiality and public availability.

3.1. Material Information. Information is material if a reasonable investor would consider it important in deciding whether to buy, hold, or sell a security. Any information that could reasonably be expected to affect the price of the security is material. Common examples of material information are:

- Earnings that are inconsistent with consensus expectations of the investment community
- A pending or proposed merger, joint venture, material license, acquisition, or tender offer or an acquisition or disposition of significant assets
- A change in management
- Clinical trial results
- Pending FDA or other regulatory action
- Major events regarding the Company’s securities, including the declaration of a stock split or dividend or the offering of additional securities
- Severe financial liquidity problems
- Actual or threatened major litigation, the resolution of such litigation, criminal indictments, or government investigations
- New major contracts, orders, suppliers, customers or finance sources, or the loss thereof
- Substantial changes in accounting methods

- Expansion or curtailment of significant operations

Other types of information may also be material; no complete list can be given.

Both positive and negative information can be material. Because trading that receives scrutiny will be evaluated after the fact with the benefit of hindsight, when in doubt as to a particular item of information, you should presume it to be material, and trading should be avoided. Do not hesitate to contact the Principal Financial Officer or the Senior Corporate Counsel if you have any questions.

3.2. Nonpublic Information. Nonpublic information is information that is not generally known or available to the public. One common misconception is that material information loses its “nonpublic” status as soon as a press release is issued disclosing the information. In fact, information is considered to be available to the public only when it has been released broadly to the marketplace (such as by a press release or an SEC filing) and the investing public has had time to absorb the information fully. As a general rule, information is considered nonpublic until the second business day after the day on which the information is publicly announced in a press release. If the information relates to the Company’s financial performance, the information is considered nonpublic until the completion of the second business day after the Company publishes its annual or quarterly earnings report.

Material, nonpublic information is not made public by selective dissemination. Material information improperly disclosed only to institutional investors or to an analyst or a favored group of analysts may retain its status as “nonpublic” information, the use of which is subject to insider trading laws. Similarly, partial disclosure does not constitute public dissemination. So long as any material component of the “inside” information has yet to be publicly disclosed, the information is deemed “nonpublic” and may not be traded upon.

4. PROHIBITIONS RELATING TO TRANSACTIONS IN THE COMPANY’S SECURITIES

4.1. Covered Persons. This Section 4 applies to:

- all Directors; all executive officers; all employees; and all consultants;
- all family members of Directors, executive officers, employees, and consultants who share the same address as, who are financially dependent on, the Director, executive officer, employee, or consultant or who do not live in their households but whose transactions in the Company securities are directed by them or are subject to their influence or control (such as parents or children who consult with them before trading in Company securities) and any other person who shares the same address as the Director, executive officer, employee, or consultant (other than (x) an employee or tenant of the Director, executive officer, employee, or consultant or (y) another unrelated person whom the Principal Financial Officer or Senior Corporate Counsel determines should not be covered by this policy); and
- all corporations, partnerships, trusts or other entities controlled by any of the above persons, unless the entity has implemented policies or procedures designed to ensure that such person cannot influence transactions by the entity involving Company securities.

4.2. Prohibition on Trading While Aware of Material Nonpublic Information.

(a) Prohibited Activities. Except as provided in Section 4.2(b), no person or entity covered by Section 4 may:

- purchase, sell or donate any securities of the Company while he or she is aware of any material nonpublic information concerning the Company or recommend to another person that they do so;
- disclose to any other person any material nonpublic information concerning the Company if such person may misuse that information, such as by purchasing or selling Company securities or tipping that information to others;
- purchase, sell or donate any securities of another company while he or she is aware of any material nonpublic information concerning such other company which he or she learned in the course of his or her service as a Director, executive officer, employee, or consultant of the Company or recommend to another person that they do so; or
- disclose to any other person any material nonpublic information concerning another company which he or she learned in the course of his or her service as a Director, executive officer, employee, or consultant of the Company if such person may misuse that information, such as by purchasing or selling securities of such other company or tipping that information to others.

(b) Exceptions. The prohibitions in Sections 4.2(a) and 5.3 on purchases, sales and donations of Company securities do not apply to:

- exercises of stock options or other equity awards or the surrender of shares to the Company or the retention and withholding from delivery of shares by the Company (i.e., a so-called “net settlement”) in payment of the exercise price or in satisfaction of any tax withholding obligations, in each case in a manner permitted by the applicable equity award agreement; provided, however, that the securities so acquired may not be sold (either outright or in connection with a “cashless” exercise transaction through a broker) (1) while the Director, executive officer, employee, or consultant is aware of material nonpublic information or (2) during a blackout period (as defined in Section 5.3(b)), to the extent the holder is one of the persons or entities identified in Section 5.1;
- other purchases of securities from the Company or sales of securities to the Company; and
- purchases or sales made pursuant to a binding contract, written plan or specific instruction (a “trading plan”) which is adopted and operated in compliance with Rule 10b5-1; provided such trading plan: (1) is in writing; (2) was submitted to the Company for review by the Company prior to its adoption; and (3) was not adopted (a) while the Director, executive officer, employee, or consultant was aware of material nonpublic information or (b) during a blackout period to the extent the holder is one of the persons or entities identified in Section 5.1; and provided further that (i) if such trading plan is adopted within two weeks prior to the commencement of a regular blackout period (as defined in Section 5.3(a)), trades may not occur pursuant to such trading plan prior to the termination of such regular blackout period, (ii) any trade under such trading plan shall not occur until at least 30 days after the date of such trading plan, and (iii) if such trading plan is amended in any material respect or terminated, trades may not occur pursuant to such trading plan or a subsequent trading plan until at least 30 days after such amendment or termination.

(c) Application of Policy After Cessation of Service. If a person ceases to be a Director, executive officer, employee, or consultant of the Company at a time when he or she is aware of material nonpublic information concerning the Company, the prohibition on purchases, sales or donations of Company securities in Section 4.2(a) shall continue to apply to such person until that information has become public or is no longer material.

4.3. Prohibition on Pledges. No person or entity covered by this Section 4 may purchase Company securities on margin, borrow against Company securities held in a margin account, or pledge Company securities as collateral for a loan. However, an exception may be granted where a person wishes to pledge Company securities as collateral for a loan and clearly demonstrates the financial capacity to repay the loan without resort to the pledged securities. Any person who wishes to pledge Company securities as collateral for a loan must submit a request for approval to the Principal Financial Officer or the Senior Corporate Counsel at least two weeks prior to the proposed execution of documents evidencing the proposed pledge.

4.4. Prohibition on Short Sales, Derivative Transactions, Hedging and Standing Orders. No person or entity covered by this Section 4 may engage in any of the following types of transactions:

- short sales of Company securities, including short sales “against the box”;
- purchases or sales of puts, calls or other derivative securities based on the Company’s securities;
- hedging transactions, including through the use of financial instruments such as prepaid variable forwards, equity swaps, collars and exchange funds; or
- standing orders placed with a broker to sell or purchase Company securities at a specified price.

4.5. Underwritten Public Offering. Nothing in this policy is intended to limit the ability of any person to sell Company securities as a selling stockholder in an underwritten public offering pursuant to an effective registration statement in accordance with applicable securities law.

5. ADDITIONAL PROHIBITIONS APPLICABLE TO DIRECTORS, EXECUTIVE OFFICERS AND DESIGNATED EMPLOYEES

5.1. Covered Persons. This Section 5 applies to:

- all Directors;

- all executive officers;
- all employees privy to annual and quarterly financial information and results;
- such other employees as are designated from time to time by the Board of Directors, the Chief Executive Officer, the Chief Operating Officer, the Principal Financial Officer or the Senior Corporate Counsel as being subject to this Section 5 (the “Designated Employees”);
- all family members of Directors, executive officers and Designated Employees who share the same address as, who are financially dependent on, the Director, executive officer or Designated Employee, or who do not live in their households but whose transactions in the Company securities are directed by them or are subject to their influence or control (such as parents or children who consult with them before trading in Company securities) and any other person who shares the same address as the Director, executive officer or Designated Employee (other than (x) an employee or tenant of the Director, executive officer or Designated Employee or (y) another unrelated person whom the Principal Financial Officer or Senior Corporate Counsel determines should not be covered by this policy); and
- all corporations, partnerships, trusts or other entities controlled by any of the above persons, unless the entity has implemented policies or procedures designed to ensure that such person cannot influence transactions by the entity involving Company securities.

5.2. Notice and Pre-Clearance of Transactions.

(a) Pre-Transaction Clearance. No person or entity covered by this Section 5 (a “Pre-Clearance Person”) may purchase or sell or otherwise acquire or dispose of securities of the Company, other than in a transaction permitted under Section 4.2(b), without first obtaining written pre-clearance (including by email) of the transaction from either the Principal Financial Officer or the Senior Corporate Counsel. A request for pre-clearance shall be in writing (including by e-mail), should be made at least two business days in advance of the proposed transaction and should include the identity of the Pre-Clearance Person, the type of proposed transaction (for example, an open market purchase, a privately negotiated sale, an option exercise, etc.), the proposed date of the transaction and the number of shares or options to be involved. In addition, the Pre-Clearance Person must execute a certification (in the form approved by the Senior Corporate Counsel) that he, she or it is not aware of material nonpublic information about the Company. The Principal Financial Officer and the Senior Corporate Counsel shall have sole discretion to decide whether to clear any contemplated transaction. (The Senior Corporate Counsel shall have sole discretion to decide whether to clear transactions by the Principal Financial Officer or persons or entities subject to this policy as a result of their relationship with the Principal Financial Officer, and the Principal Financial Officer shall have sole discretion to decide whether to clear transactions by the Senior Corporate Counsel or persons or entities subject to this policy as a result of their relationship with the Senior Corporate Counsel.) All trades that are pre-cleared must be effected within five business days of receipt of the pre-clearance unless a specific exception has been granted by the Senior Corporate Counsel and the Principal Financial Officer. A pre-cleared trade (or any portion of a pre-cleared trade) that has not been effected during the five business day period must be pre-cleared again prior to execution. Notwithstanding receipt of pre-clearance, the decision to trade is the responsibility of the Pre-Clearance Person, and if the Pre-Clearance Person is aware of or becomes aware of material non-public information or becomes subject to a blackout period before the transaction is effected, the transaction may not be completed. The use of a broker to effect the trade does not excuse the Pre-Clearance Person from the obligations under this Section 5.2(a).

(b) Post-Transaction Notice. Each person or entity covered by this Section 5 who is subject to reporting obligations under Section 16 of the Exchange Act shall also notify the Principal Financial Officer or the Senior Corporate Counsel (or his or her designee) of the occurrence of any purchase, sale or other acquisition or disposition of securities of the Company as soon as possible following the transaction, but in any event within one business day after the transaction. Such notification must be in writing by e-mail and should include the identity of the covered person, the type of transaction, the date of the transaction, the number of shares involved, the purchase or sale price and any other information requested by the Company. The use of a broker to effect the trade does not excuse the Pre-Clearance Person from the obligations under this Section 5.2(a).

(c) Deemed Time of a Transaction. For purposes of this Section 5.2, a purchase, sale or other acquisition or disposition shall be deemed to occur at the time the person becomes irrevocably committed to it (for example, in the case of an open market purchase or sale, this occurs when the trade is executed, not when it settles).

5.3. Blackout Periods.

(a) Regular Blackout Periods. Except as provided in Section 4.2(b), no person or entity covered by this Section 5.1 may purchase, sell or donate any securities of the Company during the period beginning on the last day of each fiscal quarter and ending upon the completion of the second full trading day after the public announcement of earnings for such quarter (a “regular blackout period”).

(b) Corporate News Blackout Periods. The Company may from time to time notify Directors, executive officers and other specified employees that an additional blackout period (a “corporate news blackout period”) is in effect in view of significant events or developments involving the Company. In such event, except as provided in Section 4.2(b), no such individual may purchase, sell or donate any securities of the Company during such corporate news blackout period or inform anyone else that a corporate news blackout period is in effect. If you are subject to a corporate news blackout period, you will be notified when the blackout has been lifted. (In this policy, regular blackout periods and corporate news blackout periods are each referred to as a “blackout period.”).

6. REGULATION BTR

If the Company is required to impose a “pension fund blackout period” under Regulation BTR, each Director and executive officer shall not, directly or indirectly sell, purchase or otherwise transfer during such blackout period any equity securities of the Company acquired in connection with his or her service as a director or officer of the Company, except as permitted by Regulation BTR.

7. COMPANY ASSISTANCE AND EDUCATION

7.1. Education. The Company shall take reasonable steps designed to ensure that all Directors, executive officers, employees, and consultants of the Company are educated about, and periodically reminded of, the federal securities law restrictions and Company policies regarding insider trading. The Directors, executive officers, employees, and consultants should not try to resolve uncertainties without the Company's assistance, as the rules relating to insider trading are often complex, not always intuitive, and carry severe consequences.

7.2. Assistance. The Company shall provide reasonable assistance to all Directors and executive officers, as requested by such Directors and executive officers, in connection with the filing of Forms 3, 4 and 5 under Section 16 of the Exchange Act. However, the ultimate responsibility, and liability, for timely filing remains with the Directors and executive officers.

7.3. Limitation on Liability. None of the Company, the Principal Financial Officer, the Senior Corporate Counsel or the Company's other employees will have any liability for any delay in reviewing, or refusal of, a trading plan submitted pursuant to Section 4.2(b), a request for pre-clearance submitted pursuant to Section 5.2(a) or a request to allow a pledge submitted pursuant to Section 4.3. Notwithstanding any review of a trading plan pursuant to Section 4.2(b), or pre-clearance of a transaction pursuant to Section 5.2(a), none of the Company, the Principal Financial Officer, the Senior Corporate Counsel or the Company's other employees assumes any liability for the legality or consequences of such trading plan or transaction to the person engaging in or adopting such trading plan or transaction.

8. CERTIFICATIONS

All Directors, executive officers, employees, and consultants of the Company must annually certify their understanding of and intent to comply with this Insider Trading Policy. This certification may be done by an electronic acknowledgement.

9. REPORTING OF VIOLATIONS

If you know or have reason to believe that this policy, including the trading policies and procedures for Directors and executive officers described above, has been or is about to be violated, you should bring the actual or potential violation to the attention of the Company's Principal Financial Officer or Senior Corporate Counsel.

10. MODIFICATIONS; WAIVERS

The Company reserves the right to amend or modify this policy, and the trading policies and procedures for Directors, executive officers, employees, and consultants set forth herein, at any time. Waiver of any provision of this Insider Trading Policy in a specific instance may be authorized in writing by the Company's Principal Financial Officer or Senior Corporate Counsel, or their designees, and any such waiver shall be reported to the board of directors of the Company at its next regularly scheduled meeting.
