²The Sharpe Ratio is a metric used to calculate risk-adjusted return. It is the ratio of excess return to volatility, with excess return defined as the return above that of a riskless asset (three-month T-bill) divided by the standard deviation of such returns. The higher the Sharpe Ratio, the greater the return for a given level of risk compared to the risk-free rate.

Benefits of Locked-in Capital

MANAGEMENT FEES

For the year ended December 31, unless otherwise noted ($ in millions)

- Management fees have remained stable despite:

- Significant closed-end fund distributions (more than $66 billion since January 2010)
- $13 billion of AUM not yet generating management fees (“shadow AUM”) at 6/30/17¹

- The stability of management fees can be attributed to:

- Locked-in capital: 72% of management fees from closed-end funds over the last twelve months
- Diversified mix of pro- and counter-cyclical investment strategies

¹ This compares with $21.5 billion of uncalled capital commitments as of 6/30/17. The difference primarily relates to funds that pay fees based on committed capital and have already begun their investment period, as these funds are excluded from shadow AUM but included in uncalled capital commitments to the extent they have not yet drawn 100% of committed capital. Shadow AUM also excludes general partner commitments.

Well Positioned for Future Investment Opportunity

NEAR-RECORD DRY POWDER OF $21 BILLION

- Continued fundraising in established strategies, including Real Estate Debt Fund II (“REDF II”) – successor to the first Real Estate Debt Fund, a $1 billion fund
- New product development in 2017 includes:
 - Real Estate Value-Add – primarily focused on value add and some core plus investments
 - Middle-Market Direct Lending – step-out product from our U.S. Private Debt team
 - Global Credit Fund – multi-strategy product combining the full breadth of Oaktree’s more liquid credit strategies
 - Infrastructure – launched fundraising for two separate fund vehicles focused on transportation and energy
- $13 billion of shadow AUM with a blended fee rate of 1.43% positions us well for future FRE growth

Net accrued incentives increased 12% over the LTM to $867 million ($5.55 per unit³), despite record-high incentives recognized in 2Q2017

¹ Funds paying include all incentive-creating evergreen funds and closed-end funds that have reached the stage of their distribution waterfall where the drawn capital and preferred return have been distributed to investors and, therefore, incremental distributions thereafter generate incentive income for the Company. Funds paying does not reflect funds that may pay incentive income related to tax distributions only.

² Other primarily includes U.S. Private Debt, European Private Debt and evergreen funds or accounts in our Strategic Credit and Emerging Markets Opportunities strategies. As of 6/30/2017, net accrued incentives in evergreen funds were $15 million. The majority of evergreen funds are entitled to recognize incentives on an annual basis in the fourth quarter.

The key tenets of our capital management strategy have been and remain:

- 1) Grow a strong, highly rated balance sheet with ample liquidity that allows us to fund growth for our current investment strategies along with strategic or opportunistic corporate development initiatives
- 2) Distribute to unitholders any cash that isn't needed to achieve #1, subject to our cash distribution policy
- 3) Consider opportunistic, not formulaic, purchases of our units, in the context of a long-term goal of enhancing the public float of our units

Incentive income recognized in ANI to date

Incentive income that would be recognized if fund was liquidated at its current NAV

Reflects the amount of distributions required for fund to start recognizing incentive income¹

% invested reflects how invested the fund is and, therefore, provides an indication of when we might raise a successor fund

Indicator for generating incentives (must cross net return threshold, generally 8%, before generating incentives)

Note: There are some exceptions to the statements above (e.g. some closed-end funds charge fees on contributed capital or NAV during the investment period).
¹ Additionally, tax distributions impact the timing of incentive income recognition.

Description of Non-GAAP Metrics

Adjusted net income (“ANI”) is a measure of profitability for our investment management business. The components of revenues (“adjusted revenues”) and expenses (“adjusted expenses”) used in the determination of ANI do not give effect to the consolidation of the funds that we manage. Adjusted revenues include investment income (loss) that is classified in other income (loss) in the GAAP statements of operations. Adjusted revenues and expenses also reflect Oaktree's proportionate economic interest in Highstar, whereby amounts received for contractually reimbursable costs are classified for ANI as expenses and under GAAP as other income. In addition, ANI excludes the effect of (a) non-cash equity-based compensation expense related to unit grants made before our initial public offering, (b) acquisition-related items, including amortization of intangibles and changes in the contingent consideration liability, (c) income taxes, (d) other income or expenses applicable to OCG or its Intermediate Holding Companies, and (e) the adjustment for non-controlling interests. Moreover, gains and losses resulting from foreign-currency transactions and hedging activities under GAAP are recognized as general and administrative expense whether realized or unrealized in the current period, but for ANI unrealized gains and losses from foreign-currency hedging activities are deferred until realized, at which time they are included in the same revenue or expense line item as the underlying exposure that was hedged. Additionally, for ANI, foreign-currency transaction gains and losses are included in other income (expense), net. Incentive income and incentive income compensation expense are included in ANI when the underlying fund distributions are known or knowable as of the respective quarter end, which may be later than the time at which the same revenue or expense is included in the GAAP statements of operations, for which the revenue standard is fixed or determinable and the expense standard is probable and reasonably estimable. CLO investments are carried at fair value for GAAP reporting, whereas for ANI they are carried at amortized cost, subject to any impairment charges. Investment income on CLO investments is recognized in ANI when cash distributions are received. Cash distributions are allocated between income and return of capital based on the effective yield method. ANI is calculated at the Operating Group level.

Beginning with the second quarter of 2017, the definition of ANI was modified with respect to third-party placement costs associated with closed-end funds and liability-classified EVUs to conform to the GAAP treatment. Under GAAP, placement costs are expensed as incurred and liability-classified EVUs are remeasured as of each reporting date. Previously for ANI, placement costs were capitalized and amortized in proportion to the associated management fee stream, and liability-classified EVUs were treated as equity-classified awards. All prior periods have been recast for these changes.

Economic net income (“ENI”) is a non-GAAP performance measure that we use to evaluate the financial performance of our business by applying the “Method 2,” instead of the “Method 1,” revenue recognition approach to accounting for incentive income. ANI follows Method 1, except incentive income is recognized when the underlying fund distributions are known or knowable as of the respective quarter end, as opposed to the fixed or determinable standard of Method 1. The Method 2 approach followed by ENI recognizes incentive income as if the funds were liquidated at their reported values as of the date of the financial statements. ENI is computed by adjusting ANI for the change in accrued incentives (fund level), net of associated incentive income compensation expense, during the period.

Distributable earnings is a non-GAAP performance measure derived from our non-GAAP results that we use to measure our earnings at the Operating Group level without the effects of the consolidated funds for the purpose of, among other things, assisting in the determination of equity distributions from the Operating Group. However, the declaration, payment and determination of the amount of equity distributions, if any, is at the sole discretion of our board of directors, which may change our distribution policy at any time. Distributable earnings and distributable earnings revenues differ from ANI in that they exclude investment income or loss and include the receipt of investment income or loss from distributions by our investments in funds and companies. Additionally, any impairment charges on our CLO investments included in ANI are, for distributable earnings purposes, amortized over the remaining investment period of the respective CLO, in order to align with the timing of expected cash flows. In addition, distributable earnings differs from ANI in that it is net of Operating Group income taxes and excludes non-cash equity-based compensation expense.

Fee-related earnings (“FRE”) is a non-GAAP performance measure that we use to monitor the baseline earnings of our business. FRE is derived from our non-GAAP results and is comprised of management fees (“fee-related earnings revenues”) less operating expenses other than incentive income compensation expense and non-cash equity-based compensation expense. FRE is considered baseline because it excludes all non-management fee revenue sources (such as earnings from our minority equity interest in DoubleLine) and applies all cash compensation and benefits other than incentive income compensation expense, as well as all general and administrative expenses, to management fees, even though those expenses also support the generation of incentive and investment income. FRE is presented before income taxes.

² This adjustment adds back the effect of differences in the recognition of investment income related to corporate investments in CLOs which under GAAP are marked-to-market but for adjusted net income are accounted for at amortized cost, subject to impairment between adjusted net income and net income attributable to OCG.

³ This adjustment adds back the effect of equity-based compensation expense related to unit grants made before our initial public offering, which is excluded from adjusted net income because it does not affect our financial position and from distributable earnings because it is non-cash in nature and does not impact our ability to fund operations.

⁴ This adjustment adds back the effect of timing differences associated with the recognition of unrealized gains and losses related to foreign-currency hedging between adjusted net income and net income attributable to OCG.

⁵ This adjustment adds back the effect of acquisition-related items associated with the amortization of intangibles and changes in the contingent consideration liability.

⁶ Because adjusted net income and distributable earnings are pre-tax measures, this adjustment adds back the effect of income tax expense.

⁷ Because adjusted net income and distributable earnings are calculated at the Operating Group level, this adjustment adds back the effect of items applicable to OCG, its Intermediate Holding Companies or non-controlling interests.

⁸ This adjustment eliminates investment income, which with respect to investments in funds is initially largely non-cash in nature and is thus not available to fund our operations.

⁹ This adjustment characterizes the portion of the distributions received from funds as receipts of investment income or loss. In general, the income or loss component of a distribution from a fund is calculated by multiplying the amount of the distribution by the ratio of our investment's undistributed income or loss to our remaining investment balance. In addition, if the distribution is made during the investment period, it is generally not reflected in distributable earnings until after the investment period ends.

¹⁰ This adjustment eliminates the effect of equity-based compensation charges related to unit grants made after our initial public offering, which is excluded from distributable earnings because it is non-cash in nature and does not impact our ability to fund our operations.

¹ Fee-related earnings is a component of adjusted net income and is comprised of management fees less operating expenses other than incentive income compensation expense and non-cash equity-based compensation expense related to unit grants made after our initial public offering.

² This adjustment adds back the effect of equity-based compensation expense related to unit grants made after our initial public offering, which is excluded from fee-related earnings because it is non-cash in nature and does not impact our ability to fund our operations.

⁴ This adjustment primarily represents the elimination of amounts attributable to the Company's consolidated funds, the reclassification of net gains or losses related to foreign-currency related hedging activities to general and administrative expense, and the elimination of non-controlling interests from adjusted revenues.
