SUPERIOR RETURNS, BOTH GROSS AND RISK-ADJUSTED, IN OUR OPEN-END FUNDS

OUTSTANDING TRACK RECORD IN OUR CLOSED-END FUNDS

Diverse Incentive Income Pipeline

TOTAL NET ACCRUED INCENTIVES $921 MILLION

NET ACCRUED INCENTIVES ARE DIVERSIFIED AMONG OUR INVESTMENT STRATEGIES

Net accrued incentives balance is a healthy $921 million ($5.89 per unit<sup>3</sup>), driven by our funds' robust investment performance

&lt;sup>1</sup> Funds paying include all incentive-creating evergreen funds and closed-end funds that have reached the stage of their distribution waterfall where the drawn capital and preferred return have been distributed to investors and, therefore, incremental distributions thereafter generate incentive income for the Company. Funds paying does not reflect funds that may pay incentive income related to tax distributions only.

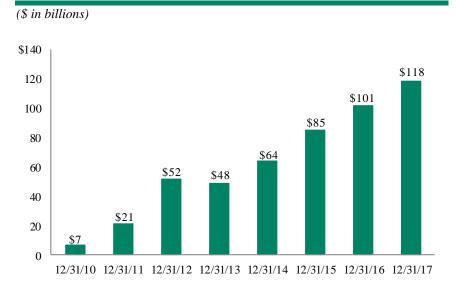

<sup>2</sup> Other primarily includes U.S. Private Debt, European Private Debt and evergreen funds or accounts in our Strategic Credit and Emerging Markets Opportunities strategies. As of 12/31/2017, net accrued incentives in evergreen funds were $9 million. The majority of evergreen funds are entitled to recognize incentives on an annual basis in the fourth quarter.

Disclosures: Fund Table Provides Meaningful Insights

Note: There are some exceptions to the statements above (e.g. some closed-end funds charge fees on contributed capital or NAV during the investment period).

Additionally, tax distributions impact the timing of incentive income recognition.

Description of Non-GAAP Metrics

Adjusted net income ("ANI") is a measure of profitability for our investment management business. The components of revenues ("adjusted revenues") and expenses ("adjusted expenses") used in the determination of ANI do not give effect to the consolidation of the funds that we manage. Adjusted revenues include investment income (loss) that is classified in other income (loss) in the GAAP statements of operations. Adjusted revenues and expenses also reflect Oaktree's proportionate economic interest in Highstar, whereby amounts received for contractually reimbursable costs are classified for ANI as expenses and under GAAP as other income. In addition, ANI excludes the effect of (a) non-cash equity-based compensation expense related to unit grants made before our initial public offering, (b) acquisition-related items, including amortization of intangibles and changes in the contingent consideration liability, (c) income taxes, (d) other income or expenses applicable to OCG or its Intermediate Holding Companies, and (e) the adjustment for non-controlling interests. Moreover, gains and losses resulting from foreign-currency transactions and hedging activities under GAAP are recognized as general and administrative expense whether realized or unrealized in the current period, but for ANI, unrealized gains and losses from foreign-currency hedging activities are deferred until realized, at which time they are included in the same revenue or expense line item as the underlying exposure that was hedged. Additionally, for ANI, foreign-currency transaction gains and losses are included in other income (expense), net. Incentive income and incentive income compensation expense are included in ANI when the underlying fund distributions are known or knowable as of the respective quarter end, which may be later than the time at which the same revenue or expense is included in the GAAP statements of operations, for which the revenue standard is fixed or determinable and the expense standard is probable and reasonably estimable. CL

Beginning with the second quarter of 2017, the definition of ANI was modified with respect to third-party placement costs associated with closed-end funds and liability-classified EVUs to conform to the GAAP treatment. Under GAAP, placement costs are expensed as incurred and liability-classified EVUs are remeasured as of each reporting date. Previously for ANI, placement costs were capitalized and amortized in proportion to the associated management fee stream, and liability-classified EVUs were treated as equity-classified awards. All prior periods have been recast for these changes.

Economic net income ("ENI") is a non-GAAP performance measure that we use to evaluate the financial performance of our business by applying the "Method 2," instead of the "Method 1," revenue recognition approach to accounting for incentive income. ANI follows Method 1, except incentive income is recognized when the underlying fund distributions are known or knowable as of the respective quarter end, as opposed to the fixed or determinable standard of Method 1. The Method 2 approach followed by ENI recognizes incentive income as if the funds were liquidated at their reported values as of the date of the financial statements. ENI is computed by adjusting ANI for the change in accrued incentives (fund level), net of associated incentive income compensation expense, during the period.

Distributable earnings is a non-GAAP performance measure derived from our non-GAAP results that we use to measure our earnings at the Operating Group level without the effects of the consolidated funds for the purpose of, among other things, assisting in the determination of equity distributions from the Operating Group. However, the declaration, payment and determination of the amount of equity distributions, if any, is at the sole discretion of our board of directors, which may change our distribution policy at any time. Distributable earnings and distributable earnings revenues differ from ANI in that they exclude investment income or loss and include the receipt of investment income or loss from distributions by our investments in funds and companies. Additionally, any impairment charges on our CLO investments included in ANI are, for distributable earnings purposes, amortized over the remaining investment period of the respective CLO, in order to align with the timing of expected cash flows. In addition, distributable earnings differs from ANI in that make-whole premium charges related to the repayment of debt included in ANI are, for distributable earnings purposes, amortized through the original maturity date of the repaid debt. Finally, distributable earnings differs from ANI in that it is net of Operating Group income taxes and excludes non-cash equity-based compensation expense.

Fee-related earnings ("FRE") is a non-GAAP performance measure that we use to monitor the baseline earnings of our business. FRE is derived from our non-GAAP results and is comprised of management fees ("fee-related earnings revenues") less operating expenses other than incentive income compensation expense and non-cash equity-based compensation expense. FRE is considered baseline because it excludes all non-management fee revenue sources (such as earnings from our minority equity interest in DoubleLine) and applies all cash compensation and benefits other than incentive income compensation expense, as well as all general and administrative expenses, to management fees, even though those expenses also support the generation of incentive and investment income. FRE is presented before income taxes.

&lt;sup>3</sup> This adjustment adds back the effect of equity-based compensation expense related to unit grants made before our initial public offering, which is excluded from adjusted net income because it does not affect our financial position and from distributable earnings because it is non-cash in nature and does not impact our ability to fund operations.

<sup>4</sup> This adjustement adds back the effect of timing differences associated with the recognition of unrealized gains and losses related to foreign-currency hedging between adjusted net income and net income attributable to OCG.

Because adjusted net income and distributable earnings are calculated at the Operating Group level, this adjustment adds back the effect of items applicable to OCG, its Intermediate Holding Companies or non-controlling interests.

<sup>8</sup> This adjustment eliminates investment income, which with respect to investments in funds is initially largely non-cash in nature and is thus not available to fund our operations.

&lt;sup>9</sup> This adjustment characterizes the portion of the distributions received from funds as receipts of investment income or loss. In general, the income or loss component of a distribution from a fund is calculated by multiplying the amount of the distribution by the ratio of our investment's undistributed income or loss to our remaining investment balance. In addition, if the distribution is made during the investment period, it is generally not reflected in distributable earnings until after the investment period ends.

<sup>10</sup> This adjustment eliminates the effect of equity-based compensation charges related to unit grants made after our initial public offering, which is excluded from distributable earnings because it is non-cash in nature and does not impact our ability to fund our operations.

<sup>11</sup> For distributable earnings purposes, the $22 million make-whole premium charge included in ANI in the fourth quarter of 2017in connection with the early repayment of our 2019 Notes is amortized through the original maturity date of December 2019.

&lt;sup>3</sup> The change in accrued incentives (fund level), net of associated incentive income compensation expense, represents the difference betwee (a) our recognition of net incentive income and (b) the incentive income generated by the funds during the period that would be due to us if the funds were liquidated at their reported values as of that date, net of associated incentive income compensation expense.
