August Doorbell Cam, Secured by ADT Canopy

About the Product:

August Doorbell Cam is a smart doorbell designed to offer convenience, security and monitoring for your home and is compatible with the full range of August smart devices such as, August Smart Lock, August Smart Keypad, and August Connect.

- Connects to your existing doorbell eliminating the need for additional wiring
- Uses secure reliable Bluetooth Low Energy (BLE) protocol enabling remote connectivity
- One-way HD camera provides private monitoring capability and visitor recording

Secured by ADT Canopy

Secured by Canopy, August Doorbell Cam, will provide added security and comfort with the ability for customers to see and speak with visitors at their door from anywhere using the August app on their iOS or Android smartphones.

- Availability without a contract commitment lowers the bar of entry to first time smart home and mobile users
- Option for month-to-month monitoring terms allow for greater flexibility in service provision
- Blended brand efforts gives the audience the ability to trial smart security hardware and service from leading tech and security companies in one, inclusive device
- Connects to the August Smart Lock, allowing customers to lock or unlock doors, create virtual keys for guests and track anyone who locks or unlocks the door with instant notifications.
- August and ADT are also working together on additional security features that will be integrated into Canopy.
- Use Case: With ADT Canopy, if you feel unsafe when checking the August app and seeing who is at your door, you can now alert ADT Canopy's professional security network through an in-app panic button.
