

TerraForm Power owns and operates a best-in-class renewable power portfolio of solar and wind assets located primarily in the United States, totaling more than 2,600 megawatts of installed capacity. TerraForm Power's goal is to acquire operating solar and wind assets in North America and Western Europe. TerraForm Power is listed on the Nasdaq stock exchange (Nasdaq:TERP). It is sponsored by Brookfield Asset Management, a leading global alternative asset manager with more than US$285 billion of assets under management.

Business Analyst, Financial Applications

Location: New York, NY

Summary:

Reporting to the Chief Information Officer, Terraform Power, the Business Analyst is responsible for providing appropriate business analysis activities to support Technology Services operations and project delivery. This role requires a results-oriented individual with a passion for collaboration, strong communication skills and excellent team-building that drives business results.

Responsibilities:

- Oversee third-party service provider service delivery governance and service level assurance for the Finance Application Service Line.
- Deliver quality service and support through continuous improvement and providing standard and consistent service levels both internally and externally thereby driving operational excellence Finance Application Service Line.
- Contribute to the development of project definition and scope with applicable business and technology stakeholders; helping stakeholders and senior-level management make informed decisions about initiatives.
- Support the Chief Information Officer and Project Manager in identifying the financial, technical and human resources required to complete projects.
- Reviews and edits requirements, specifications, business processes and recommendations related to proposed solution.
- Updates documentation based on feedback collected from various stakeholders.
- Define user acceptance test plans, coordinate user acceptance testing, and testing of new system functionality.
- Accountable for the analysis process and deliverables for all assigned projects from initiation through closure.
- Contribute to the development of project risk mitigation plans and the maintenance of Risk, Actions, Issues and Decision documentation.
- Identifies opportunities for improving business processes through information systems and/or non-system changes; assists in the preparation of proposals to develop new systems and/or operational changes.

Required:

- Strong understanding of Microsoft D365, Kyriba, & OneStream.
- Strong awareness and experience in IT audit and compliance management (SOC, COBIT, SSAE).
- Strong customer service ethic, results driven, and ability to demonstrate ownership of services within scope of role.
- Experience with Financial ERP and corporate reporting applications and development platforms.
- Experience with Application integration, data management and translation/extract, end-user computing, and end-user collaboration platforms.
- Experience with Application testing process, tools, and methodologies.
- Strong analytical skills with the ability to think outside the box to solve complex problems and develop winning long term strategies.
- Sound judgment in high-pressure situations.
- Experience in managing change, including implementation of information technology integration projects (M&A).
- Ability to collaborate and work effectively with multiple parties and partners with a global matrix style organization.
- Excellent verbal and written communication skills, with the ability to interact professionally with a diverse and geographically-dispersed group of project stakeholders, Service Groups, Business System Owners and subject matter experts.
- Ability to work independently on multiple simultaneous initiatives in a fast-paced environment.
- Experience in the Renewable Energy sector preferred.
- Proven experience in learning new technologies and tools at a rapid pace.

Qualifications:

- 5 - 7 years of Business Analyst experience, preferably in large multi-location businesses.
- Bachelor's degree in Information Systems, Computer Science, or a similar field.
- Broad understanding and knowledge of industry best practices.
- Proficiency with Microsoft Office (Outlook, Word, Excel, PowerPoint), Microsoft Visio and Microsoft Project.

TerraForm is an equal employment/affirmative action employer. If you need accommodation for any part of the employment process because of a medical condition or disability, please send an e-mail to recruiting@terraform.com