Ball Reports Strong 2012 Results

Highlights

- Full-year 2012 comparable earnings per diluted share increased 12 percent, to $3.06 vs. $2.73 in 2011
- Fourth quarter comparable earnings per diluted share from continuing operations were 64 cents, vs. 48 cents in 2011, an increase of 33 percent
- Ball generated $548 million in free cash flow in 2012
- While challenges exist, the company expects continued earnings improvement in 2013

BROOMFIELD, Colo., Jan. 31, 2013— Ball Corporation (NYSE:BLL) today reported full-year 2012 net earnings attributable to the corporation of $403.5 million (including after tax charges of $79.5 million, or 51 cents per diluted share for business consolidation costs, discontinued operations and other activities), or $2.55 per diluted share, on sales of $8.7 billion, compared to $444.0 million, or $2.63 per diluted share, on sales of $8.6 billion in 2011. On a comparable basis, Ball's full-year 2012 results were net earnings to the corporation of $483.0 million, or $3.06 per diluted share, compared to $459.6 million, or $2.73 per diluted share, in 2011.

“Ball Corporation’s 2012 full-year comparable earnings per share increased 12 percent compared to 2011, a very good performance in a challenging economic environment,” said John A. Hayes, president and chief executive officer. “Contributions from our growth investments, excellent execution by our operations and strategic actions taken to align our supply with market demand led to Ball’s improved results.”

Fourth quarter 2012 net earnings attributable to Ball Corporation were $60.6 million, or 39 cents per diluted share, on sales of $2.1 billion, compared to $77.5 million, or 47 cents per diluted share, on sales of $2.1 billion, in the fourth quarter of 2011. On a comparable basis, Ball's fourth quarter results were net earnings of $98.9 million, or 64 cents per diluted share, compared to $78.1 million, or 48 cents per diluted share in the fourth quarter of 2011.

Details of comparable segment earnings for the full year and the fourth quarter can be found in the notes to the unaudited consolidated financial statements that accompany this news release.

Metal Beverage Packaging, Americas & Asia

Metal beverage packaging, Americas and Asia, comparable segment operating earnings were $522.5 million for full-year 2012 on sales of $4.5 billion, compared to $481.7 million in 2011 on sales of $4.4 billion. For the fourth quarter, comparable earnings were $138.0 million on sales of $1.1 billion, compared to $119.9 million on sales of $1.1 billion in 2011.

Excellent operating performance offset increased manufacturing costs, and strong demand for specialty packaging continued in North America and Brazil. During the fourth quarter, the company completed the closure of its Columbus, Ohio, 12-ounce beverage can plant to further align supply with demand and expanded specialty packaging capabilities across its North American manufacturing footprint. In Brazil, Ball announced plans for a second production line in its Alagoinhas beverage can plant. While in Asia, profitability remained relatively flat on single-digit volume declines year over year in the fourth quarter due to a focus on disciplined capacity alignment in a challenging pricing environment.

Metal Beverage Packaging, Europe

Metal beverage packaging, Europe, comparable segment results in 2012 were operating earnings of $219.0 million on sales of $2.0 billion, compared to $243.7 million on sales of $2.0 billion in 2011. For the fourth quarter, comparable operating earnings in 2012 were $37.8 million on sales of $437.4 million, compared to $41.0 million on sales of $451.0 million in the fourth quarter of 2011.

Full year and fourth quarter comparable operating earnings were negatively affected by foreign currency translation of $24.7 million and $3.1 million, respectively. Strong demand for specialty containers partially offset the impact of soft demand for beer, and extruded aluminum aerosol packaging demand continued to grow in the quarter and the full year. Beginning in the first quarter of 2013, the European extruded aluminum packaging results will be reflected in the global food and household products packaging segment.

Metal Food & Household Products Packaging, Americas

Metal food and household products packaging, Americas, comparable segment results for 2012 were operating earnings of $131.1 million on sales of $1.4 billion, compared to $133.7 million in 2011 on sales of $1.4 billion. For the fourth quarter of 2012, comparable segment results were operating earnings of $28.6 million on sales of $320.2 million, compared to $13.1 million on sales of $322.8 million in the same period of 2011.

Fourth quarter results were up due to improved manufacturing efficiencies across all the segment's businesses, which also nearly offset the full year negative impact of a disappointing 2012 vegetable harvest and lack of inventory holding gains from the prior year. Also during the quarter, the company completed the acquisition of an extruded aluminum manufacturing facility in Mexico.

Aerospace and Technologies

Aerospace and technologies comparable segment results were operating earnings of $86.6 million on sales of $876.8 million in 2012, compared to $79.6 million on sales of $784.6 million in 2011. For the fourth quarter, earnings were $24.2 million on sales of $245.0 million, compared to $18.0 million on sales of $185.1 million in the fourth quarter of 2011. Contracted backlog at the close of the year was more than $1 billion.

During the quarter, Ball was selected as part of a team that will build the first space-based instrument to monitor major air pollutants across the North American continent for NASA's Tropospheric Emissions: Monitoring of Pollution (TEMPO) mission. Ball also signed a contract with the B612 Foundation for Ball to create infrared imaging sensors for the Sentinel Mission, a privately funded deep space mission to protect Earth by providing early warning of threatening asteroids. In December and earlier this month, Ball successfully integrated all five payloads and a spacecraft de-orbit module onto STPSat-3, the Department of Defense Space Test Program's Standard Interface Vehicle (STP-SIV) slated to launch in August 2013.

Outlook

Ball announced yesterday a 30 percent increase in the company's quarterly cash dividend, payable March 15 to shareholders of record on March 1.

"The company's strong free cash flow allows for the continued return of value to shareholders through share repurchases and yesterday's increased dividend," said Scott C. Morrison, senior vice president and chief financial officer. "We anticipate full year 2013 free cash flow to be in the range of $450 million as spending for certain growth investments announced but not completed in 2012 will shift into 2013, including capacity to produce specialty containers in North America and Brazil."

"Our company's strong 2012 results continued our progress toward achieving our Drive for 10 vision, and while we face pricing headwinds in Asia and the previously announced 12-ounce volume loss in North America, we remain focused on striving to reach our long-term goal of 10 to 15 percent diluted earnings per share growth,” Hayes said.

Ball Corporation is a supplier of high quality packaging for beverage, food and household products customers, and of aerospace and other technologies and services, primarily for the U.S. government. Ball Corporation and its subsidiaries employ approximately 15,000 people worldwide and reported 2012 sales of more than $8.7 billion. Notes to the Condensed Financial Statements (Fourth Quarter 2012)

2. Significant Business Consolidation Activities and Other Noncomparable Items

In August 2012, Ball announced plans to close its Columbus, Ohio, U.S., beverage can manufacturing facility and its Gainesville, Florida, U.S., can end facility. The two facilities are being closed in order to consolidate the company's 12-ounce beverage can and can end production capacity to meet changing market demand. In connection with the closures and a related voluntary separation program completed in the segment, the company recorded charges of $18.9 million ($11.5 million after tax) in the fourth quarter and $50.2 million ($30.5 million after tax) for the full year. Additional charges to close the facilities of approximately $13.1 million ($8.4 million after tax) are expected to be recorded in the first half of 2013.

In the fourth quarter, the company finalized the settlement of certain Canadian defined benefit pension plan liabilities resulting in pretax charges of $27.1 million ($16.5 million after tax). The fourth quarter also included charges of $2.9 million ($1.7 million after tax) for transaction costs related to the acquisition of Envases del Plata S.A. de C.V. in December 2012 and $3.4 million ($2.1 million after tax) for a voluntary separation program offered to corporate headquarters and aerospace and technologies employees. The fourth quarter and full year included charges of $1.3 million ($1.0 million after tax) and $1.7 million ($1.3 million after tax), respectively, related to a fire at one of the company's beverage container plants in the United Kingdom.

The fourth quarter and full year of 2012 included charges of $2.9 million ($2.1 million after tax) and $12.5 million ($8.9 million after tax), respectively, for the relocation of the company's European headquarters from Germany to Switzerland during the third quarter of 2012, as well as fourth quarter and full year 2012 charges of additional tax expense of $1.9 million and $3.2 million, respectively, related to the relocation.

The fourth quarter and full year of 2012 also included net charges of $2.3 million ($1.6 million after tax) and $5.0 million ($3.3 million after tax), respectively, for ongoing costs related to previously closed facilities and other insignificant costs.

During the fourth quarter, the company recorded charges of $9.6 million ($9.6 million after tax) for the write down of the Lublin, Poland, facility to net realizable value, as well as charges of $4.1 million ($2.6 million after tax) incurred in connection with the planned relocation of the company's European headquarters from Germany to Switzerland in 2012. Also during the fourth quarter, Ball recorded a net gain of $6.8 million ($4.2 million after tax) for the sale of tangible assets from the Torrance, California, facility less costs of closing the facility (see discussion below). Additional charges included $3.0 million ($1.8 million after tax) related to capacity reduction at the Columbus, Ohio, metal beverage plant and costs associated with previously closed facilities.

In October 2011, Ball acquired its partners' interests in a former joint venture metal beverage can plant in Qingdao, PRC. As a result of the required purchase accounting, the company recorded a gain in equity in results of affiliates of $9.2 million, related to the previously held interest in the joint venture.

In January 2011, Ball announced plans to close its Torrance, California, U.S., beverage can manufacturing facility; relocate a 12-ounce beverage can line from the Torrance facility to its Whitby, Ontario, Canada, facility; and expand specialty can production in its Fort Worth, Texas, U.S., facility. The company recorded charges of $14.2 million ($8.6 million after tax) during the first nine months of 2011 in connection with these activities. The land and building were sold during the fourth quarter of 2011 for a gain of $6.9 million ($4.2 million after tax).

Also in January 2011, the company acquired Aerocan S.A.S. for €221.7 million ($295.2 million) in cash and assumed debt. During the first quarter, the company recorded transaction costs of $2.9 million ($1.9 million after tax) related to the acquisition.

A summary of the effects of the above transactions on after-tax earnings is as follows:

Free cash flow is typically derived directly from the company's cash flow statements and defined as cash flows from operating activities (both continuing and discontinued) less capital expenditures. Cash flow provided by (used in) operating activities is the most comparable U.S. GAAP term to free cash flow, and it should not be inferred that the entire free cash flow amount is available for discretionary expenditures.

Non-U.S. GAAP Measures - Non-U.S. GAAP measures should not be considered in isolation. They should not be considered superior to, or a substitute for, financial measures calculated in accordance with U.S. GAAP and may not be comparable to similarly titled measures of other companies. Presentations of earnings and cash flows presented in accordance with U.S. GAAP are available in this earnings release and quarterly and annual regulatory filings.
