DUPONT FABROS TECHNOLOGY, INC. TO SPEAK AT THE THIRD ANNUAL WASHINGTON, D.C. & MID-ATLANTIC DATA CENTER SUMMIT

Panel will focus on connectivity changes and opportunities in the modern data center

WASHINGTON, D.C. – Sept. 17, 2015 – DuPont Fabros Technology, Inc. (NYSE: DFT), a leading owner, developer, operator and manager of enterprise-class, carrier-neutral, large multi-tenant wholesale data centers, today announced that Vinay Nagpal, director, carrier relations, will be speaking on a panel at the Third Annual Washington, D.C. & Mid-Atlantic Data Center Summit.

Nagpal will be taking part in a panel titled, “Connectivity Challenges & Opportunities, Including Interconnectivity, Developer Site-Selection, Integration of the Cloud and Adoption of the Open IX Model in the U.S.” The panel will provide an analysis of Mid-Atlantic client requirements, connectivity strategies for providers, bandwidth and latency requirements, and manufacturer constraints for increasing fiber capacity. In addition, panel members will provide their expert opinions on topics such as what differentiates the Mid-Atlantic and Tri-State markets from Midwest and West Coast markets from a connectivity perspective; the importance of latency; whether or not it is necessary to work with a third-party provider like AWS, Azure or Google Cloud to effectively compete in today’s playing field; and much more.

The Third Annual Washington, D.C. & Mid-Atlantic Data Center Summit is a full-day conference that will feature more than 50 speakers on a variety of panels focusing on the state of the market, new development/site selection, investment, financing and connectivity innovations.
