

Five New Websites for Federal-Mogul Motorparts
New, integrated e-cataloguing service enhances website usability and product identification

Frankfurt, Germany, 14th September 2016 - Federal-Mogul Motorparts, a division of Federal-Mogul Holdings Corporation (NASDAQ: FDML), has launched five new websites for Ferodo[®], MOOG[®], Champion[®], Jurid[®] and its corporate EMEA website, www.fmmotorparts.eu. Announced at Automechanika Frankfurt, the new websites have been developed to unify branding across the company's different product segments and improve navigation. The new sites also provide access to a new e-cataloguing platform that eases correct product look-up.

“This launch is a milestone for the digital strategy of Federal-Mogul Motorparts - providing uniformity of our online presence, increasing site traffic and ensuring that customers benefit fully from the expertise communicated online,” said Jonas Vercammen, Manager Digital Media EMEA. “The commitment of Federal-Mogul Motorparts to provide customers with a first class service extends beyond the development of a comprehensive range of OE-quality components – the feel and capability of our online presence is now closely aligned to the advanced approach that Federal-Mogul Motorparts takes to providing next generation automotive technologies.”

All five new websites offer advanced new e-cataloguing functionalities, which help to improve product identification. Sites can also be regionalized for targeted EMEA markets, with adaptable search functions for some areas: for example, the ability to browse component compatibility by either number plate or VIN (vehicle identification number).

“We have aimed to provide a dependable flexibility; ensuring that customers are able to benefit from website functionality that is optimised for different regions and markets,” explained Vercammen.

Federal-Mogul Motorparts has maintained a consistent feel and functionality across its five new websites to help promote familiarity for visitors and ease transition to the new, easy-to-navigate platform. All sites are built to provide a multidimensional experience across multiple mobile formats such as smartphones and tablets.
